Office of Injured Employee Counsel Announces Redesigned Website with User-Friendly Content

Austin, Texas – September 14, 2017 – The Office of Injured Employee Counsel (OIEC) recently redesigned its website, oiec.texas.gov, with a fresh new look and user-friendly content. The redesigned website includes:

- Phone- and tablet-friendly web pages
- Interactive map to view field offices across the state
- Online form to contact OIEC
- Easily readable information

OIEC Public Counsel Jessica Barta remarked, “We focused on injured employees for our website redesign. The information is easier to understand and access from mobile devices such as phones and tablets.”

The website redesign is just one part of the agency’s plan to make workers’ compensation information easier to understand. All new or revised handouts and publications will incorporate plain writing to make the difficult information of workers’ compensation more simple and clear.
